

Windfall

READING SERIES

Eliot Treichel

has recently published his first collection of short stories, Close is Fine, in which the rural Wisconsin setting – a lonely, aching expanse – mirrors characters who yearn for a closeness just out of their grasp. Honored with a residency fellowship at Playa and a Career Development Grant from the Oregon Arts Commission, he teaches writing at Lane Community College.

José Angél Araguz

has received high praise for his recent poetry chapbook The Wall. A 2004 invitee to the Bucknell Seminar for Younger Poets and March 2013 Guest Editor for the online journal Stirring: A Literary Selection, he works at Smith Family Bookstore.

Tuesday, February 19 • 5:30 • Free
Downtown Eugene Public Library

Meet and hear regional writers in person.
Authors' works available for purchase and signing.
Refreshments served at intermission.

Sponsored by the Lane Literary Guild, Friends of Eugene Public Library, Eugene Public Library Foundation, and the Lane Arts Council with support from the City of Eugene Cultural Services Division.

www.eugene-or.gov/library • 541-682-5450

Eugene
Public Library

